Recording, Uploading, and Privately Sharing Your Video: (with GitHub Integration)"

1. Record Your Video: - Use a camera or a screen recorder to make your video. - Make sure you have good lighting and clear sound. - Talk about your topic confidently and clearly.

2. Upload to YouTube: - Log in to your YouTube account. - Click on the 'Create' button and choose 'Upload Video.' - Pick your video file from your computer and wait for it to upload

3. Keep Your Video Private: - Before you publish, look for the 'Privacy' setting. - Choose 'Unlisted' to make sure only people with the link can watch it.

4. Copy the Video Link: - After your video is uploaded, YouTube will give you a link. - Copy this link so you can share it later

5. Add the Link to GitHub: - Go to your GitHub repository. - Create or edit a file where you want to add the link. - Paste the YouTube link into the file and save it. - Now your video link is on GitHub for others to see! With these steps, you can easily record a video, keep it private on YouTube, and share the link on GitHub for others to access.
